Representative Flynn Supports Paris Junior College

AUSTIN, TX - The Paris Junior College - Greenville Center has recently received a Skills Development Fund Grant check so that they may continue educating the citizens of Greenville, TX. Paris Junior College has proved to be a wonderful educational institution that allows people at all levels in life to get the education they need to best fulfill their work duties. "I applaud the utilization of the Skills Development Fund. This fund provides employers with access to in-demand skills needed in today's marketplace and right here on its Greenville, TX campus, Paris Junior College works hard to provide those skills for the employers that help make Greenville a great place to live and work.", said state Rep. Dan Flynn.

More specifically, Dr. Pam Anglin has led the Greenville Center of Paris Junior College through its hard work and aid to Greenville employees. Without her help, Greenville would not be the thriving city that it is today. "Dr. Anglin has brought tremendous advances to upper level education to Greenville and allowed many employers to benefit from her achievements. Many thanks to Paris Junior College who under her leadership has made a real difference", stated Representative Flynn.

This fund is being presented on behalf of the Texas Workforce Commission. The Greenville Center of Paris Junior College has tremendously helped Greenville, TX in allowing employees to educate themselves on the skills needed in today's workforce. "With today's ever-changing market and economy, it feels satisfying to know that there are schools like Paris Junior College to help adults feel confident in their work skills and abilities", said state Representative Flynn. The fact that the Texas Workforce Commission is funding this grant proves just how successful Paris Junior College is in helping people, specifically in the Greenville area, as well as across the state of Texas. Representative Flynn said, "Many thanks to Paris Junior College and Dr. Pam Anglin; Greenville, TX supports all that you do."
