State Representative Dan Flynn announced the designation of Interstate Highway 20 as the Ronald Reagan Memorial Highway. This includes the portion of I20 located between the Tarrant-Parker County Line and the eastern municipal boundary of Grand Prairie and between the Dallas-Kaufman county line and the Texas-Louisiana border.

As President Ronald Reagan once said, "If you're afraid of the future, then get out of the way, stand aside. The people of this country are ready to move again." Ronald Reagan was the leader to have the highest claim on resolving the Cold War for liberty with a "peace through strength" doctrine. He was known as America's Great Communicator and the ideals articulated by Ronald Reagan helped to bring down the Berlin Wall in the late eighties.

Interstate Highway 20 has been an invaluable resource for the citizens of North East Texas area since it was first built in 1957. A portion of Interstate Highway 20 in Arlington, TX was previously designated to honor Ronald Reagan and it is only fitting to continue the tradition.
